Buyer and Seller (m/f/d) for Pharmaceutical Substances

You can make the difference:

Buying and selling substances: That's what this varied position is all about, in which you act along the entire supply chain.

- You will provide intensive support to our (inter)national customers, from analysing and benchmarking to preparing quotations and managing contracts.
- Through direct contact with our suppliers and customers, you will negotiate needs- and target-orientated conditions.
- It goes without saying that you will visit customers and suppliers on site and at trade fairs, establishing and expanding long-term business relationships.

Your qualities are:

- You have good negotiating skills and commercial understanding.
- Your independent way of working as well as your social skills and talent for communication.
- You are also experienced in using MS Office and can communicate in English.

Our recipe for your benefit:

- An attractive salary package, a variety range of training opportunities and 30 days' holiday
- Possibility to work from home within the company regulations
- Above-average additional benefits: company pension scheme, company supplementary health insurance and much more
- Modern working environment in the buzzy south of the Port of Hamburg, including a height-adjustable desk
- Free car park, good public transport possibilities and infrastructure
